

GEORGETOWN★DC

Explore the unexpected

Visit georgetowndc.com
and discover more than 470 ways to shop, eat and play in Georgetown.

★ BOOK HILL

Centered on the 1600 block of Wisconsin Avenue and named for nearby Book Hill Park, this charming area is home to a cluster of commercial fine art galleries and locally-owned boutiques, cafés, and antique shops.

★ WISCONSIN AVENUE

The heart of Georgetown's small business community, Wisconsin Avenue intersects with M Street and offers a mix of third-generation businesses next door to new café concepts and repurposed historic buildings.

★ M STREET

Recognized as one of the best shopping streets in the country, M Street frequently serves as the starting point for many visitors, connecting the neighborhood to Foggy Bottom and Downtown DC to the east and Virginia via Key Bridge to the west.

★ CADY'S ALLEY

Cady's Alley anchors the Georgetown Design District, with more than 20 home furnishing showrooms, fashion and specialty boutiques nestled in a cluster of historic industrial buildings.

★ C&O CANAL

The historic C&O Canal and its towpath run 184.5 miles—the first mile of which is through Georgetown. This urban oasis offers one-hour boat tours, paths for runners and cyclists, and perfect picnic areas for those who prefer to sit, stay awhile, and even spot some wildlife. Learn more at georgetownheritage.org.

★ GEORGETOWN WATERFRONT

As you make your way toward the Potomac, 10-acre Georgetown Waterfront Park awaits. To its left, Washington Harbour offers waterfront dining, river cruises and water taxis that connect the region's waterfronts, and DC's largest outdoor ice skating rink in the winter.