Washington, D.C. (March 25, 2025) – The 22nd annual Georgetown French Market is a D.C. tradition that marks the arrival of spring. The Georgetown Business Improvement District (BID) announces that the popular festival weekend - perfect for shoppers, foodies and families - will return Friday, April 25 through Sunday, April 27 from 11am - 5pm. The free event will be located along Wisconsin Avenue between O Street and Reservoir Road in the Book Hill section of Georgetown, with temporarily widened sidewalks for a more comfortable visitor experience.

More than 40 neighborhood boutiques, antique stores, restaurants, salons and galleries will display their discounted wares for up to 75% off at the inviting open-air market, originally inspired by the outdoor markets in France. Neighborhood restaurants and vendors will also offer food and drink specials featuring French cuisine and beyond – from crepes, pastries, croissants, and macarons, to personal charcuterie boards, grilled lunch items, savory tarts, and wine discounts. Visit georgetownfrenchmarketdc.com for the full list of participating businesses.

On Saturday and Sunday, families are encouraged to bring the kids to the back patio of Georgetown Neighborhood Library for face painting, balloon twisting, a caricature artist, and games. Visitors of all ages can enjoy live music throughout the market, pop-up book shops, a unicyclist and more.
